the person rises from a laying position and walks in a clockwise circle, and then lays back down the ground.

